

INTRODUCING:

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA Forests Society

Who We Are:

A volunteer organization of people interested in forestry in BC. The BC Forests Society was founded in 2004 and is currently based in Victoria.

Our Purpose:

To encourage open public discussion about forestry issues, provide information, give balanced comment, apply common sense, explain and reduce the rhetoric, and act as a watchdog.

What We Do:

Address issues thoughtfully and thoroughly and respond quickly to new developments. We have addressed issues such as: forest land use, zoning, pine beetle, private forest land, tree farm licences, woodlots, log exports, forest certification, and community participation.

Contact Us:

If we can provide information or support with your efforts, on any subjects involving forestry in BC, please contact us:
